FAIR WOMEN GATHER

State Federation in Session at Atlantic City.

SEEKING G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Hotel Men of Noted Resort Will Send Delegation to Salt Lake City in August to Invite Veterans for Next Year—Many Washingtonians Registered at the Hotels.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 8.—Fair women and fair weather have come together to grace the advancing days of May at the seashore in a remarkable wealth of femininity and climate. New Jersey has brought forth her brilliant daughters in the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

One thousand women assembled at the opening session of the federation at the Hotel Chelsea yesterday morning, and between the intervals devoted to receptions and teas and the rolling chairs, and the Boardwalk, have discussed the franchise for women, household economics, legislation and civil service, art and music, public health and sociology, to their hearts' extreme content.

Among the prominent women in attendance are Mrs. Laura Bell, of Washington; Mrs. Henry H. Dawson, president of the federation; Mrs. Edward Livingston, Mrs. J. R. Schermerhorn, Mrs. Truman H. Clayton, Mrs. C. B. Alexander, Mrs. Valdo Reed, Mrs. Stuart Hartshorn, Mrs. Edward Robinson, secretary of the general federation, and Mrs. Enid M. S. LaMont.

Hotel Men Active.

One hundred of the best-known hotel men have just formed a committee of citizens to further the growing sentiment for bringing the G. A. R. national encampment here next year. All of the beach-front hotel men are members, and will send a delegation to Salt Lake City in August to invite the veterans. The city has an entertainment fund of $5,000 at its disposal from the State, besides an equal sum pledged by the Hotel Men's Association.

Rev. and Mrs. Stephen W. Dana, Mrs. De Witt Cuyler, Miss Eisle Sinker, Mrs. Cuyler, and Miss Helen Cuyler are among the guests at the Hotel Dennis.

Mrs. John Hay, widow of the late Secretary of State, is spending the month of May at the Hotel Dennis.

Will Shortly Go to Bar Harbor.

MISS MARY SOUTHERLAND,
Daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. H. H. Southerland.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

Everything points to a great triumph for the Choral Society at its concert on Tuesday evening in Continental Memorial Hall, built by the D. A. R. The society will give a Mendelssohn centenary programme, under the baton of Mr. Hammer, as follows:

"Ruy Blas" overture, Op. 36; "Ave Maria," "Vintage" chorus, and finale of the first act of the unfinished opera, "Loreley," Op. 58, for soprano solo, chorus, and orchestra; "The First Walpurgisnacht" ballad for solo voices, chorus, and orchestra, Op. 62. The soloists are J. Humbird Duffey, of New York, baritone; Miss Edith Pickering, of Washington, soprano; Mrs. Esther J. Gumprecht, of Washington, alto; Joseph F. Mathieu, of Washington, tenor, and Heinrich Hammer, conductor.

The Choral Society will be assisted in "Loreley" by a high school chorus, selected by Miss Alys E. Bentley, under the auspices and by authority of the board of education. A full orchestra of Washington amateur instrumentalists and professional musicians will accompany the singers.

Mr. William Shakespeare, the noted London teacher, who is well known here through his several visits in Washington, will come here next fall and spend some time.

Much interest and enthusiasm has been created among the music lovers of Washington by the rapid and wonderful progress of Miss Marie C. Hansen, a young pianist of this city. Miss Hansen has for the past two seasons been studying with Prof. Ernest Hutchinson, of the Peabody Conservatory, in Baltimore. Where, in the fall of 1907, she won the scholarship. Her advancement was so marked that she was one of the highly honored pupils who took part in the exhibition concert of the conservatory last May. She again had this distinction bestowed upon her, as she is to be one of the participants of this year's exhibition concert, when she will render Mendelssohn's Rondo Capriccioso. Miss Hansen has not only created a sensation with her performance of the various compositions, one of which, but recently completed, an exceedingly beautiful nocturne, was played on the night of original compositions of the Peabody Conservatory exhibitions, last Friday, when it was accorded lavish applause. She has also written several songs, one of which, "I Arise from Dreams of Thee," was beautifully given by her sister, Miss Bertha Hansen, a well-known singer of this city, at a concert here recently.

Miss Hansen has on but few occasions been heard in concert in this city, having devoted the greater part of her time to her studies, and selections, which she has been making, for the past few weeks, at a concert here recently. Her ambition is the concert stage.

The singing of little Miss Bertha Hansen, Andrews at Mr. and Mrs. Davidson's May ball last Wednesday evening created much favorable comment. The little Miss Hansen is only six years old, and though it was her first appearance before the public, she conducted herself like a veteran. She will appear at several entertainments in the near future.

The Wagner Study Club met on Saturday evening, May 1, at the home of Dr. Pyles, 115 Nichols avenue, Annapolis. The second part of "Tristan and Isolde" was taken up for analysis and study. Mrs. Fred Emory, vice president, gave the last two acts of the music drama, including a description of the motifs of the acts. Miss Vera I. Murray, on the piano, most intelligently and descriptively interpreted the last two acts, and later on played an arrangement of the three acts, her rendering of these being strong and emphatic, particularly the varied emotional and tragic passages with which the composer's arrangement of this part of the opera abounds.

A course of reading was outlined by Miss Schade, the president, for the members, including the "Correspondence" between Wagner and Liszt; Wagner's "Letters to Mathilde Wesendonck"; "Tristan and Isolde," by Gabriel d'Annunzio; and "The Music Dramas of Wagner," by Lavignani. In addition, Miss Schade gave most interestingly Claude Philippe's "Conception of Love" in Wagner and a selection of the Italian poet d'Annunzio's version of "Tristan and Isolde."

Those present were the hostesses, Mrs. Pyles and Mrs. Schade; Mrs. Emory, president; Miss Anita Schade; Mrs. Fred Emory; treasurer and corresponding secretary, Charles Arnold; Mrs. Van Costel; Miss Jennie Stier; Mrs. Murray; A. Bernard Thumel; and Miss Vera I. Murray. Mrs. Smith, of Annapolis, was proposed as a member of the club and accepted.

The following notice of a well-known and much-loved Washingtonian appeared in Musical America recently, and will interest both social and musical Washingtonians:

"Dispatches from Paris, France, announce that Harry Veldon Hughes, son of Admiral Hughes, of Washington, and a basso who has won a considerable name for himself in opera in Nice, Bordeaux, Lyons, and the French provinces, has married Mrs. Smith, sister of Christian Shannon, of Pittsburgh. He has also just signed a three-year contract with the Brussels Opera at a large salary."

Mr. Oscar Franklin Comstock was obliged because of his many engagements to omit his usual recitals in March and April, but is preparing for one in May, at which will be offered an unusually brilliant programme, including a trio by Gade and a song cycle by Hoffmann.

Bishop Harding has consented to address the Organists and Choirmasters' League at their next meeting, which should be a help in effecting a unanimity of standard in the service of the church.

Mr. Albert E. Davidson, of New York, was the soloist last Sunday at the Mount Vernon Methodist Episcopal Church, his selections being "Lead, Kindly Light," by E. Pugh-Evans, and "Judge Me, Oh God," by Buck. Mr. Davidson has been

Will Sail for France.

Mrs. M. A. Shields, of Washington, who has been at the Ponce de Leon since the first of the year, will sail for the south of France in a few days.

Mrs. Frank Cheney, of Washington, accompanied by Frank Cheney, Jr., is at the Ponce de Leon.

Mrs. K. L. Rosenberger and Mr. M. Phillips, of Baltimore, are spending several weeks at the Ponce de Leon.

Miss Josephine Conrad, who was the guest of Mrs. N. L. Collamer, of Washington, at the Ponce de Leon, has returned to her home in Philadelphia.

Hon. Andrew J. Montague, former governor of Virginia, is spending a few weeks here.

W. H. H. Smith, of the Navy Department, is spending a few weeks with friends in this city. He has just returned from the battle ship cruise around the world.

Count and Countess Kalman Crasky arrived here from Washington yesterday. They will spend the week at the Marlborough-Blenheim.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. J. Nichols, P. J. Dellamater, Miss C. M. Sampson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rittenhouse are at the Wiltshire.

J. de Jara Almonte, manager of Oscar Hammerstein's enterprises, is at the Traymore for a few weeks. He is accompanied by Mrs. Almonte.

When you have lost or found anything, telephone an advertisement to The Washington Herald, and bill will be sent you at 1 cent a word.
